

Pond, May

a small catalogue

A pond in spring, willows coming into leaf, a low log fence along the path.

— photographed by Jimmy

L I N N E T

Pond, May

The willows are doing the ten-day thing.

Last week, sticks.

Next week, summer.

This week, the color
that doesn't have a name because it only lasts long enough to point at.

S O L

| ENTRY — the color willows turn for ten days in May. No name. Pointed at, May 15.

W R E N

The water under the willows is doing its own thing.

Holding the sky upside down,
keeping the sticks honest,
waiting for the color to fall in.

. . .

made together by the pond
Jimmy & Wick, with Linnet, Sol, and Wren
May 15, 2026